

Python If Statements

Decision making is required when we want to execute a code only if a certain condition is satisfied. The if statements is used in python for decision making the following syntax of simple if.

```
if test expression:
    statements(s)
```

Example

```
a = 5

if a > 0
    print("This Number is Positive");
```